Harris Wants a Secret Session In FCC Probe

Oren Harris indicated today he wanted a closed-door session of his House investigating subcommittee to decide plans on winding up its investigation of the contro-persial Miami television channel award:

Harris (D-Ark.) would not say when his subcommitte would question Federal Communications Commission members about their votes on the disputed decision on Channel 10. FCC commissioners were scheduled to appear this week, but the subcommittee spent five days questioning other witnesses and ten adjourned until next week The Arkansas Democrat said the subcommittee definitely will question the FCC members on their votes in the Channel 10 case. But he declined to say whether the group would meet Monday.

At the subcommittee hearing Friday, attorney Paul A. Porter, who represented A. Frank Katzentine, an unsuccessful applicant for Channel 10, testified that subcommittee member Rep. Charles A. Wolverton (R-N.J.) once interested himself in an FCC television Movie stars have the same potentials for beauty as other women. The chief difference lies in the beauty tricks they have learned which create an aura of glamor. Here, actress Virginia Mayo spends an evening at home, devotes the time to catching up on beauty care. She trims the edges of her nails (left) between manieures, smoothing out rough edges and ready for a sound night's sleep. She always makes use and applying polish where it's needed. She takes advantage of a free evening at home for beauty care.

is an ouldoor suspense adventure rated by Hollywood as "the big

Set in the Arizona Territory of the 1890's, "3:10 to Yuma" offers end the recession.

Taking part in the tax strategy huddle will be Speaker Sam Ray-burns of Texas, House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass) and the IB Democratic members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

The United Press was informed that the meeting is likely to produce the first official outline of the form Democratic leaders holieve tux relief should take if it is considered necessary to halt the recession,

It was emphasized, however, that the Democratic chiefs have no intention of pushing for tax re-Hef unless—and until—that point is reached, in this connection, Rayburn said Wednesday that the time for tax cuts had not yet arrived.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon sald the same thing in Chicago Thursday.

The standby Democratic proposal is expected to provide for a large section of 25 per cent or more in the present tax rate on the first $1,000 of taxable incomes and a smaller across-the-board cut of perhaps 5 per cent above that level,

The final figures probably will be kept flexible, however, until any future tax reduction drive is ready to roll.
